have never regretted it, and with pleasurable delight did I endorse every word contained in your letters in the controversy with Judge Bond. I stand where I have always stood—for the "Union, the Constitution and the enforcement of the Laws," with no sympathy for the rebellion.

The election was controlled by this man Collier, whose brother-in-law, Col. Graham, was a candidate for the Circuit Court Clerkship, and had his man here to force upon the people his election.

I am, respectfully yours, &c.,
J. H. TARR.

Are — liaving been ralled upon to stain the ray driven and address of our poMa on the stain rast. I do so speed obsertally Whom I approached the wonders to discountry being the being on white some case and also be without trees the results of the contraction.

tadw norm brings I ato a loguellado ladere Montadw norm brings I ato a loguellado ladere Monen O hemando og kan briden og Laner I brigger og Laner

There are the state of the stat

The value of the request of the state of the local state of the state an process of the war religion, and have religion to the party of the quireless I was hanging about the polls. I amiliate was not the case; by said he had been informed that I but college to take the cast the cast. The paper was his infured to a false. He him for his kindseemed complete with his congression. I am for his his been printed on well in one means a suntage of the first means a suntage.

have never boon hallenged.

From the first outbreak to the present mountain have been for the Holon and are still for the Plaint. I at the contains the statement of the stateme